We asked personal organizer Amy Knapp, founder of thefamilyorganizer.com, and Mona Williams, senior merchandise director of The Container Store, to speed through a cleanup of Colleen's car plus map out plenty of ways to keep her kids entertained—no matter how many bumps in the road.

Make over my minivan

Face it: Some days your car is your family room on wheels. Let our experts show you how to conquer the clutter.

BEFORE

Road rules: Colleen Scotti needs a new plan for cleaning up her minivan mess.

A very organized visor
Store a selection of fave CDs in the Leather Visor CD Organizer, which holds 12 disks and has a zippered pocket for pens and paper (Brookstone, $20). Also attach an Eyewear Clip to your visor; it'll keep sunglasses safe—and always in the same place (Kmart, $4).

Papers, please
When your glove compartment is overstuffed, stash road maps, your driver's license and registration, a spare house key, and all repair and insurance records if you get into a scrape, you'll know whom to call in the Glove Box Organizer (Car Lover, $12.99).

Sleek front seat
Spruce up your dashboard area with the Mini Van Console Plug n' Go (Kmart, $50). Inside is storage; outside are four cup holders, a CD shelf, a memo-pad nook, plus two power outlets that connect to a lighter. And don't leave your driveway without a cell-phone holder: The Navigator Hands-Free Cell Phone Car Kit turns your mobile into a speakerphone (Discovery Channel Store, $20).

A tidy trunk
The Rolling Cargo Bag (The Container Store, $30) keeps grocery sacks upright and has pockets for supplies, such as umbrellas and a flashlight. Show here: The solar-powered Dynamo AM/FM Flashlight Radio in yellow (Flea Goods, $40). Another trunk staple: a blanket for warmth or a picnic; use the Plastic Storage Picnic (Tag, $25). Also stow the Auto Medic Kit, with jumper cables and a registration card for a year's worth of roadside assistance (Kmart, $40).
